

KELSEY BABELFISH

THE 'PROBLEM SOLVER'

Here at Fuzion we like to make your life easier.

That's why we created our Kelsey Original brand, and it's latest product the 'Babelfish' solves a problem that you need solving.

We all know that the Neutrik 4-pin Speakon is a great connector that has become the de facto standard for amplifier and speaker manufacturers. However, do you find that the output pins of your amplifier often do not match the input pins of your loudspeaker? This renders your stock of pin-to-pin speaker cables unusable without an on-site re-wire. Then there's the grief (and confusion) involved when the now non-standard cables are next used.

That's where the Babelfish comes in. Built into a small, rugged steel box are 6 x Neutrik NL4 connectors. Simply connect the output of your amplifier to the top, pick the appropriate connector from which to attach your loudspeaker and you're sorted. It's so simple you're going to love it, and you'll never have to unscrew a Speakon again.
